

WAS WORRIED
OVER WORKReason For Clara Bloodgood's
Suicide Last Night

SAID HER HUSBAND TODAY

Coroner's Office, Declaring It a Clear Case of Suicide, Washed Its Hands Of It—Prominent Actress Used Revolver.

Baltimore, Md., Dec. 6.—William Lambier, husband of Clara Bloodgood, the actress, who committed suicide last night, arrived here this morning and immediately prepared for shipping his wife's body to New York. He accompanied the body at noon. A letter which was left by Mrs. Bloodgood for her husband, which was expected to cast some light upon why she killed herself, proved a disappointment. When Lambier read it, he said it was a personal note and had no bearing whatever on the suicide.

When Mrs. Bloodgood did not appear last evening to take her part in "The Truth" at the Academy of Music, word was sent to her hotel, the Stafford. Bernard Weiss, a helmy, was sent up to the actress' room. The boy found no difficulty in opening the door of the suite but the inner door opened with difficulty.
Her persistent refusal to open the door slightly. Through the aperture, he saw Mrs. Bloodgood, nude and holding a revolver before her, standing with her back to the door.

As Weiss hastily closed the door he heard a pistol report. He was summoned and the trunk which had been placed against the inside of the door was thrust aside and the door opened. The body of Mrs. Bloodgood was found lying on the bed, near which Weiss had seen her, she evidently having fallen to the bed when she fired the weapon. She discharged three times, one bullet going into the ceiling and two into the roof of the woman's mouth. The revolver was a new one of 32 caliber. Mrs. Bloodgood bought it Tuesday.

When she made the purchase, Mrs.
Bloodgood inquired as to how to use it.
Near the body was found a book entitled "How to Shoot Straight," while on the table was a book on anatomy, open at a page describing the brain and the most vital parts thereof. Together with the purchase of the revolver on Tuesday, these facts indicate premeditation of suicide. Coroner Hayden, after viewing the body, pronounced it unquestionably a case of suicide.

During the afternoon, Mrs. Bloodgood attended a matinee performance at Libaugh's theatre and before going to her room in the hotel had a talk with her stage manager, John Emerson. He refused to discuss the matter in any manner or speech. The only reason he can ascribe for her act is that she had been working very hard and feared a breakdown. At the Academy of Music, the audience was diminished by the announcement of the sudden illness of the star.

Her Career as an Actress.
As Mrs. John Bloodgood, she held a high position in the society of New York and general esteem continued to be hers after she separated from her husband and made her debut as an actress. This season Mrs. Bloodgood has been starting under the management of Chas.
Frohman in "The Truth," a play by Clyde Fitch. In it she has been eminently successful, her impersonation of the wife who fabricates to her husband having been highly praised.

It was on January 4, 1895, that Mrs.
Bloodgood first essayed a role as a professional actress. The play was "The Conquerors," and her part of Eloise was a small one. Then followed parts with Annie Russell's company in the play "Catherine" and in "Pierrot." Next she appeared, in 1899, as Mrs. Percival Kin-gster in "Miss Hobbs," and as Julia Godesby in "The Climbers." In 1901 in "The Way of the World" Mrs. Blood-good's acting was highly commended, and at the Savoy in this city in 1902 she took the leading role in "The Girl with the Green Eyes." In 1904 she appeared in "The Coronet of a Duchess," and "How He Lied to Her Husband," She also has enacted the role of Violet in "Man and Superman."

The coroner's office washed its hands of the case to-day by saying: "It is a clear case of suicide. There is no necessity of an inquest."

Mrs. Lambier said, "My wife was undoubtedly insane from overstudy and worry as to the success of the play in which she was starring."

BIG SUIT BEGINS.

$50,000 Case of Head & Dowry Company Against Breeders' Club On.

Manchester, N. H., Dec. 6.—The $50,- 000 case of the Head & Dowry company of this city against the New England Breeders' club to enforce the payment of an alleged balance due for construction work done at the Salem race track in connection with the $200,000 contract was heard before Judge Peaslee in the superior court here today.

The company claims that it has a lien on all real estate at the track owing to the fact it furnished labor and material and erected the several buildings. The company maintains that the fact that the club made an assignment will have no effect upon its claim owing to the lien it holds on the property.

QUARTER MILLION LOSS
AND ONE FATALITY

In Fire which Ruined Boston & Maine
R. R. Property in East Cambridge, Mass., Last Night.

Boston, Dec. 6.—A fire which broke out early last night in the boiler shop of the Boston & Maine railroad repair plant at Prison Point, East Cambridge, except all but two of the entire group of buildings including a machine shop, paint shop, boiler shop, and round house and consumed much valuable machinery and 15 locomotives. The loss is a quarter of a million dollars. During the fire the horses of engine 31 of Boston ran away and killed a spectator, Augustus W. King, of Somerville.

In addition to the fatality two firemen were severely injured by the falling of steel girders from the roof of the repair shop, which compelled several horsesmen, who were fighting the flames from the roof, to jump for their lives.
The injured men are Capt. Melvin P.
Mittell, and Roseman James E.
Downey, both of this city.

The repair plant occupied about 75,- 000 square feet of land at Prison Point, not far from the Charlestown state prison.

The alarm of fire was rung in from Boston, and the Boston department for over two hours fought the fire before the Cambridge department appeared.

The fire was a spectacular one, as the flames were carried high in the air by the half a gale which prevailed.

CHICK WAS TIRED.

Ended His Life With Shotgun in the Cotter House, Rochester.

Rochester, N. H., Dec. 6.—Coral Chick a young man of 30 years, committed suicide yesterday while calling at the home of Miss Abbie Cotter, a young woman with whom he had been keeping company. Miss Cotter, who was the only witness of the tragedy, said that Chick entered the house carrying a shotgun, and announced that he was tired of living. He then laid down on a couch, held the muzzle of the shot gun to his forehead, and pulled the trigger, blowing off the top of his head.

Chick was employed as an operative in the Coochey mills. Miss Cotter is between 15 and 16 years of age, and is the daughter of Mrs. Mary Cotter, a widow.

A preliminary examination was held last morning, after which the medical examiner announced that while he considered it clearly a case of suicide, he would postpone the declaration of a formal verdict until he had made a further investigation.

A BIG POINT
FOR TAFT MENIn Election of Harry S. New as Chairman

OF REPUBLICAN NAT'L COM.

Opponents of Roosevelt and Taft Are Vigorously Opposing Kansas City as the Place of the Next Convention.

Washington, D. C., Dec. 6.—When the Republican national committee got down to work at the Shoreham hotel for the first session to-day, Chicago boomers were claiming a victory over Kansas City and the "field" was glowing over Taft. Besides naming the time and place for the convention next summer, the committee had to select a chairman to succeed acting chairman Harry S. New of Indiana.

Mr. New was elected chairman soon after the opening of the session. His selection for the place is regarded as a triumph for the Taft people.

If Chicago wins the convention, the anti-Taft people will claim a tally. All the anti-Roosevelt, pro-Faraker, pro-Fairbanks, pro-Knox, and pro-Cannon people seem to have centered their energies on beating Kansas City.

The further west the convention goes, they figure, the nearer the battleground will be to the president's and Taft's country.
The vote for the place of meeting will not be taken until to-morrow.

FEAR FATALITIES

WILL REACH 500

Explosion in Two Mines Near Fairmont, W. Va., Today Were Heard For Miles Around—Aid is Being Rushed.

Fairmont, West Va., Dec. 6.—An explosion occurred in mines 6 and 8 of the Fairmont Coal company at Montagah, six miles from here, today. Seven hundred men were working in the mines. The report was heard for miles around. All available rescue workers and physicians and nurses are being rushed to the spot. Many fatalities are feared.

It is now feared that 500 were killed or injured in the explosion. Three dead bodies had been taken out up to noon when fans were started to exhaust the poisonous fumes, so that the rescuers might enter the shaft. The cause of the accident is not known. General Manager Nelson said it was the worst in the history of mining in America, if their fears as to loss of life prove true.

HUNTER SHOT IN FOOT.

Accident to Harry F. Whittier, Young Resident of Raymond.

Raymond, N. H., Dec. 6.—Harry F.
Whittier, a 17-year-old son of Harlan Whittier of this town, was crippled for life by the accidental discharge of a companion's gun while deer hunting yesterday. A charge of buck-shot was lodged in his left foot, shattering two toes so that amputation was necessary, and necessitating a third.

Whittier's companion was Russell Miller of Epping, a young man of about his own age. He is a son of George Miller.

The two boys had been hunting for deer near the Stephen Holt place on the Epping road, about three miles from Raymond village. They had poor luck in the woods and were just starting for home when the accident occurred.

They were going through some bushes and it is believed that the trigger of Miller's gun caught on a bush, causing the discharge. The first warning was a deafening report, and Whittier staggered back with a groan of pain.

"My foot," he cried, and pointed to his foot, the toe of which was torn away, while the blood was streaming from the mangled flesh.

Horror at the accident, Miller dropped his gun and sprang to his companion's assistance. An effort was made to staunch the flow of blood and with Miller's aid Whittier was able to walk to the road. He was brought to the village and his injuries were attended by Dr.
Guptill, who removed six buckshot from the wound.

Worcester, Mass., Dec. 6.—The mother of Cora E. Fay, the girl who was found strangled in the hallway of her home, 3 Lincoln street, Wednesday morning, refuses to claim her daughter's body, which still remains at the City hospital.

tion that she and her daughter were not on friendly terms. She claims she has not sufficient means to bury it. The body will be turned over to the city authorities for burial.

NAIL SCRATCH STARTED IT.

George Hopkins of Warren Died of Lockjaw Wednesday.

aged 34 years, died Wednesday afternoon of lockjaw caused by a scratch on his hand received a few days ago from and sisters who live in Williamstown.

GROVER WILL SUSTAINED.

G. L. Shaw of Morristown Loses a Hard Fought Case.

Hyde Park, Dec. 6.—In Laneville county court yesterday the case of Charles L. Shaw of Morristown vs. the estate of Mrs. Della Grover of Hyde Park, which occupied the attention of court two days, resulted in a verdict for the estate to recover costs.

The case was hotly contested and drew a large number of spectators. The general opinion appeared to be that Mrs. Grover knew what she was about when she made her will and that she had made liberal returns for any board that she may have had at the home of her brother-in-law, Mr. Shaw. As previously stated, the will provides that after the demise of Mrs. Shaw, her sister, the sum of about $1,500 goes to the Hyde Park town library. Mrs. Shaw is to have the use of this money during her lifetime. This is the only civil case for the jury.

The case of State vs. Arthur Willard of Morristown for illegal deer shooting was finished quickly, the jury bringing in a verdict of not guilty. Tracy for state, Maurice for respondent.

Court will be occupied with divorce cases and other matters the remainder of the week.

The case of State vs. Otto Stigley of Morristown, charged with larceny will be tried Monday.

FOUND DYING IN BARN.

Julius Lavine of North Hero, Aged 70 Years, Found Saturday.

North Hero, Dec. 6.—Julius Lavine, about 70 years of age was found in an unconscious condition at 5:30 yesterday morning and lived only 15 minutes after being brought into the house of Warren Clark for whom he worked. He had gone to the barn to see a buck come but his custom had not yet returned for breakfast. Mrs. Clark found the barn door fastened and notified her husband who crawled in a window and found Mr.
Lavine barely breathing. The unconscious man was carried into the house where in spite of their efforts he quickly expired.

Mr. Lavine came from Canada about 45 years ago and had resided here most of that time. He was twice married, leaving eight children by his first wife and one by his second, living in Swanton. The funeral will be held at Mr. Clark's Saturday.

dren Were Surprised—Animal Had Been Shot With a Shot Gun.

to town last night the carcass of a buck which weighed 180 pounds and whose antlers had eight prongs. Manley carries school children to and from school and while he was on the road yesterday he was surprised to see a buck come running into the road, where it dropped dead. Mr. Manley finished carrying the carcass, only to discover that someone had dragged the carcass into the woods, where it was later recovered.

Two men were seen in the vicinity where the buck fell, but it was so dark that they could not be recognized. The buck had been shot at close range with a shot gun. The carcass is being held to await action by State Commissioner Thomas of Stowe.

AFTER DEER SLAYERS.

Two Men Arrested in Bellows Falls and Fined.

Bellows Falls, Dec. 6.—Two game commissioners paid the hunters from Al-stead a visit yesterday afternoon with Sheriff Perry, and arrested Fred Maynard of Bellows Falls and Dexter Weeks of Alstead for killing a deer illegally by shooting with a rifle contrary to law and worrying and hunting them after they had killed the amount that was allowed by law.

They were fined $100 each, but $75 on each count was suspended. The game commissioners said the hunters from Al-

Served—Was Started by Organizer Ward.

Granite City Tent, Knights of the Maccabees, No. 12, was instituted in Knights of Pythias hall last night, with 34 members present. The instituting officer was Col. S. C. Ward of Augusta, Maine, who is supreme sentinel of the order, as well as colonel of the uniform rank of the Province of Quebec.
The following officers were installed:
Sir Knight Past Commander, J. C. Hawley Commander, L. L. Leonard, M. D.; Lieutenant commander, James N. Call; recorder keeper, A. C. Tilden; chaplain, Harry A. McNeil; sergeant, William H.
Ward; physician, L. L. Leonard; master at arms, Neil O. Ralph; first master bureau, P. F. Bradbury.

The most pleasing feature of the evening's entertainment was the arrival of the ladies of the Maccabees at intermission, headed by their lady commander, Bertha McNeil, after which Mrs. McNeil addressed the new officers and members in a very able address of welcome. She gave a brief history of the Knights of the Maccabees, of its objects and its purposes, and its attainments, as well as congratulating the organizer upon the high personnel of its membership.

Then in behalf of Harmon Hill, ladies of the Maccabees, the newly formed tent was invited to partake of a banquet provided by the ladies. The hall was beautifully decorated for the occasion with the colors of the society, and the tables fairly groaned under the load of good things provided.

the supper were Mrs. Nancy Avery, Mrs. Emma Snow and Maggie Smith, assisted by Lillian Carney, Elizabeth Carroll and Sadie Mason. The waiter for the occasion were Mrs. Nellie Roben,

It was a late hour when the meeting to procure Knights of Pythias hall if satisfactory arrangements could be made. Owing to a large number who desired to become members at the eleventh hour, it was voted to extend the time until Dec. 13th.

Sir Knight Ward is receiving many congratulations on the high character of the charter members, and the successful termination of his still hunt for material to make up to this, the latest addition to barre's fraternal order. The trip to Jerusalem will be undertaken on next Thursday if a sufficient number of canele can be procured to transport the large number of prospective candidates.
It might be well to add that the present membership will not enjoy any of the scenery enroute, but will be obliged to sit quietly by the roadside as the caravan goes by.
